LATEST NEWS FROM NEWARK'S NEWEST NEIGHBOURHOOD

Newark's new Southern link road

Middlebeck Way will be more than just a road – it's the latest part of Newark's evolution and is really putting the new community of Middlebeck on the map.

Work is well underway on the construction of the 5km new Southern Link Road (SLR) to connect the A46 and the A1 along the southern edge of Newark (see middle pages).

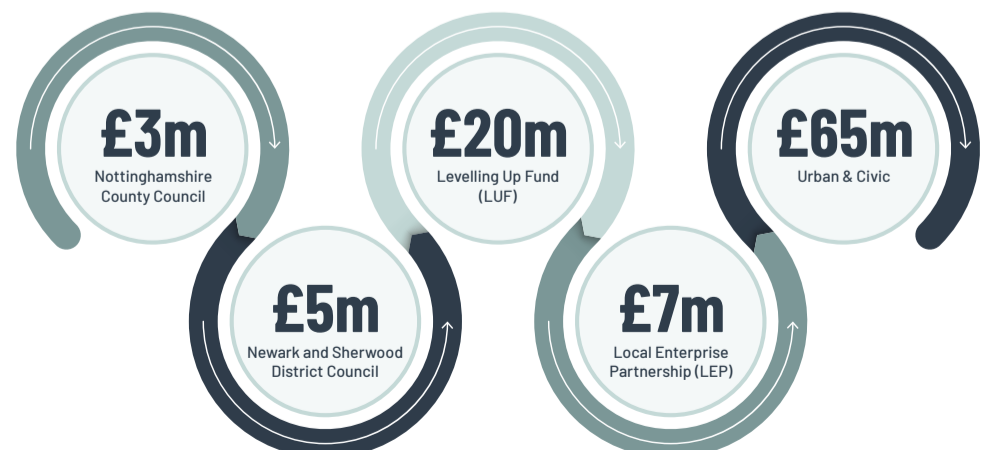

As well as enabling the expansion of the new community of Middlebeck to bring more new homes to the town, the road has wider benefits for Newark, providing new connectivity, reducing congestion and attracting people to live and work in Newark to boost local economic growth.

The road design will be similar to the first phase of the SLR which was completed in 2017 running from Staple Lane to Bowbridge Lane. It will be a 40mph single carriageway road with footpaths, alongside large ponds which provide a surface water drainage system for the new development.

Southern Link Road stats

4.6km new/improved highway	1km shared footpath/cycleway	2x new bridges
4x pedestrian crossings on Hawton Road	8x pylons removed	1x new culvert
3km new sewers	8km of electric cabling	500m of realignment/ new highway on A46
2km new/improved footpaths	1.5m cubic metres earth moved	100m diameter roundabout on A46

A closer look at the SLR

The SLR, which will be called Middlebeck Way, is being built in sections by two different contractors.

The western section (between Middlebeck and the A46) is being delivered by Breheny Civil Engineering with ECL Civil Engineering building the stretch towards the A1. Urban&Civic, the master developers of Middlebeck, are responsible for the overall delivery on behalf of a range of other local stakeholders.

From the west (A46)

A new roundabout will be created on the A46 connecting onto the new SLR. This roundabout will be located between the Farndon to Hawton bridge and the Lord Ted roundabout on the A46.

The next step will be another new roundabout on Hawton Road. This is already taking shape and Hawton Road will be elevated significantly from its original level. Large flood compensation areas and balancing ponds will run alongside the new road.

From the east (A1)

You'll be able to join the SLR from the A1 using a new roundabout that is being created next to the entrance to the Welcome Break services on the B6326. As well as from the A1, it will also provide easy access from Balderton and Fernwood.

From this roundabout you will join a stretch of new road (formerly part of Staple Lane) and then onto another new roundabout which connects to the existing section of SLR that was built in 2017 and runs to Bowbridge Lane at Middlebeck.

Staple Lane will be permanently closed to through traffic, where the road is currently closed, with residential access only from its existing junction with London Road. Traffic will instead enter the new Southern Link Road via the new roundabout near Welcome Break Services, as shown below.

Bowbridge Lane
This roundabout, next to Gannets at Middlebeck, was part of the first phase of the SLR which completed in 2017. The new road will connect here.
